George Scheller, the proprietor of the Ne-haigh House bar, was arrested on the 16th inst. for setting fire to that building and there is strong circumstantial evidence against him. There is a growing excitement as the fact of his arrest becomes known, and much talk of lynching him.

A serious shooting affray took place in Tonto Basin on the 16th inst., between three of the Tewkesbury boys and John Gilen and cousin. Gilen was wounded and his cousin, a boy, shot through the shoulder, the ball lodging in his lungs. The wound is mortal. The trouble was about cattle.

The "oldest inhabitant" scrapes the scum from his memories of 200 years and fails to discover a night in Phoenix when the thermometer stood 17 degrees below the freezing point; he therefore rubs his fingers, shivers, and wonders how much longer he has got to live.

Thirty-eight witnesses were summoned in the contested election case and twenty-four were examined. The testimony in the case would suggest to the mind of the average citizen the necessity of some wholesome change in our election laws together with a somewhat more careful execution of them.

Mr. Ira Stroude is now giving most excellent entertainments both from a musical and dramatic point of view. Mr. Kohler, the wide-awake manager has secured the services of new first-class variety people and the acting is fully up to variety business for which the public usually pays an admittance fee of half a dollar or more. Mr. Stroude's enterprise will develop into a veritable opera house in the course of time.

We learn that the shooting affray in Tonto Basin, briefly noticed in Saturday's HERALD, is likely to lead to very serious trouble among the stock men, a number of whom are in pursuit of the Tewkesbury boys with the intention of taking summary vengeance upon them, and the Tewkesbury boys have sworn that the matter should be settled without resort to law and, it is said, have declared that they will never be arrested. The probability is that there will be still more serious trouble.

A "dead drunk" lying in the middle of the sidewalk was one of the Washington street sights this morning. We hope he found the "coop."

We have heard rumors of a petition going to the board asking for the reduction of the rate of interest named for the Court-house bonds; but as yet we have seen nothing of it.

The devil in this office left a fall of galley type, this afternoon, containing a run-over article, and we short about a column and a half of reading matter.

A fine Sciopticon outfit with team and wagon, all in first-class order, are advertised for sale in today's HERALD. The chance is a good one for some one who can handle the business, as the whole thing can be had at a very reasonable figure, the team and carriage being worth the price asked.

At 187 West street, New York, is the Erie Ticket Office, presided over by Mr. C. V. V. Ward, who thus writes: "Some months ago I had rheumatism in my right arm, and was unable to raise it. I was advised by a friend to use St. Jacobs Oil. I did so and on the second day I felt greatly relieved. I continued to use it, and before the second week it had been exhausted my arm was perfectly well."

The dog poisoning mania is breaking out about town and unlucky "pups" may occasionally be seen with their throats turned up. It would not be a bad idea to remove one of these carcasses from the street, though most citizens are willing to stand it provided the good work goes on.

The sickening details of the Tehachapi horror came by today's dispatches, but nothing further of importance beyond what yesterday's dispatches gave. A list of those on the train has not yet appeared more than that given yesterday of dead and injured.

Mr. Herritt has left at our office the excellent U. S. History for which he is agent. It is a very handsome book and even more valuable than we anticipated. It brings events down to August, 1882, and gives date, etc., of everything of importance. He has ordered 60 copies and will deliver to subscribers soon.

Harper's Magazine for February reached our table to-day. It is very attractive and entertaining and with all instructive. "The Wild Welch Cunt," "Artist's Strolls in Holland," "German Political Leaders," The Local Associations of Whittier's Poems and two serial novels, all profusely illustrated, are among the contents.

Special Session of District Court

On yesterday afternoon direct examination of witnesses was concluded on both sides in the contested election case, some sixteen being examined for contestant and eight for respondent. This forenoon witnesses were examined for contestant in rebuttal, and the testimony was closed. At the hour of writing the case is being argued by counsel.

Findings of Judge Pinney in the Contested Election Case.

For the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the Territory of Arizona, in and for the County of Maricopa.

R. F. Kirkland, Plaintiff and Contestant, vs.

Neri Osborn, Defendant and Respondent.

The case having been regularly called for trial before the Court and the Contestant having appeared by T. W. & Hancock, Cox & Campbell and Smith, his attorneys, and Alop & Baker having appeared as attorneys for respondent, and the Court having heard the proofs of the respective parties and considered the same and the records and papers in the cause, and the arguments of the respective counsel thereon, and the cause having been submitted to the Court for his decision, the Court now finds the following facts:

That the Contestant, R. F. Kirkland, was at the time of the commencement of these proceedings a qualified elector of Maricopa County, in the Territory of Arizona.

That at the General Election held in said Territory of Arizona, on the seventh day of November, 1882, for Territorial and county officers, the said R. F. Kirkland and the said Neri Osborn were rival candidates for the office of County Recorder of said county of Maricopa county of Arizona, and that nearly all of the votes cast at said election in said county of Maricopa for said office of County Recorder were cast for either of the said Kirkland or Osborn.

That on the day appointed by law the Board of Supervisors of said county of Maricopa met at the county seat of said county of Maricopa, and proceeded to estimate the vote thereof, and did draw up and sign a statement thereof, purporting to contain the names of the persons voted for at said election, the office to fill which each person was voted for, the number of votes given at each precinct to each of such persons and the number of votes given to each in the said county and then and there filed the same together with the returns received by them from each precinct, with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of said county, and then and there declared the said Neri Osborn elected County Recorder of said county for the ensuing term.

That according to said estimate and statement the whole number of votes cast at said election for County Recorder was 884, of which the said Neri Osborn received 444 and the said R. F. Kirkland received 440, and therefore the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors made out and delivered to said Osborn a certificate of his election to said office of County Recorder of Maricopa County, signed by said clerk and authenticated by the seal of the said Board of Supervisors.

That among the votes cast for said Neri Osborn and estimated and counted by said Board of Supervisors as having been received by said Neri Osborn were eleven votes purporting to have been cast in favor of said Osborn at a certain election precinct in said county known as Agua Caliente precinct, and the Court finds that four of the said votes were not cast legally as having been cast before there was any Board of Election legally entitled to receive the same.

That among the votes estimated and counted by said Board of Supervisors as having been received by said R. F. Kirkland at said election were three votes cast at Tempe precinct in said county of Maricopa, to wit, the votes of Manuel Gonzales, Nabor Gonzales and John E. Lawson, and all of said votes so cast and estimated for said Kirkland were illegal and not cast by qualified electors of the County of Maricopa.

The Court further finds from the evidence that in the whole County of Maricopa there were cast at the said election for the aforesaid candidates 877 legal votes, and that of this number Neri Osborn received 410 legal votes and R. F. Kirkland received 437 legal votes. That the Respondent Neri Osborn is a qualified elector of the County of Maricopa in the Territory of Arizona.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW.

A conclusion of law from the foregoing facts the Court now hereby finds and decides:

I. That R. F. Kirkland, the Contestant herein, was not elected to said office of County Recorder, by virtue of the election in said statement mentioned and is not entitled thereto.

II. That the said Neri Osborn was duly elected County Recorder of said County of Maricopa in the Territory of Arizona, by virtue of said election held on the seventh day of November, 1882, as aforesaid, and is entitled to judgment declaring him to be duly elected to said office.

The Shooting Affair in Tonto Basin.

From the Globe Chronicle we call the following particulars concerning the shooting mentioned in yesterday's HERALD:

From parties just in from Tonto Basin we learn the following particulars regarding the shooting affair at the Tewkesbury ranch in Pleasant Valley on the afternoon of the 11th inst., which resulted in the fatal shooting of a young man named Gilliland, who has but lately arrived from Texas, and the wounding of John Gilliland, a stepson of Mr. Oliver Felton, who lives at the forks of Wild Rye and Tonto creeks. It is reported that during or before the last rodeo of cattle in Pleasant Valley, the Tewkesburys branded some cattle belonging to a Mr. Stinson, who has a ranch adjoining them. These cattle Stinson would not allow them to vent and expressed his intention of prosecuting them for theft. Stinson subsequently went to Phoenix leaving John Gilliland in charge of his ranch and stock. Some days since the latter received a letter from Stinson instructing him to tell the Tewkesburys to vent the cattle and allow the matter to drop. This was John Gilliland's errand when he in company with his cousin and a Mexican went to the Tewkesbury ranch on the 11th inst. Upon their arrival they were met by Ed. Tewkesbury, saying, "I guess you are looking for some one, ain't you?" to which John Gilliland replied, "Oh no," and was about to state the object of his coming, when Ed. saying, "Well, I am," opened fire on the party. He was joined by others from the house and in the melee John Gilliland was shot through the right arm, and his cousin (also named Gilliland) was, as John supposed, killed, as he fell from the saddle without a struggle. The Mexican escaped unhurt, and in company with John rode to Stinson's, from where the latter started for Green Valley to raise a crowd to go over and arrest the Tewkesbury party. The following morning the Mexican arrived at Felton's ranch with the news that, as the boy was not yet dead, four of the Tewkesbury party had brought him in a blanket to Stinson's, where he still lingered in a very critical state and would probably die.

GENERAL NEWS.

Albuquerque is to have a new jail.

A body of troops have been sent into the Dragon mountains after the Apaches from Fort Huachuca.

The floods in Germany have rendered more than 100,000 people homeless.

The Tombstone papers very justly complain of the letting of the city printing to foreign offices.

It is now stated on good authority that it has been decided in the Cabinet, that should the Fitz John Porter bill pass Congress the President is to veto it.

The Southern Pacific railway proposes the shipment of grain from San Francisco to Liverpool via New Orleans, at the low rate of from $9 to $12 per ton for the entire distance. This will necessitate a line of freight steamers of 5,000 to 7,000 tons capacity to make the round trip in about thirty days, bringing on the return from Liverpool immigrants and coal. The fare to California from Liverpool is to range from $25 to $30. Experimental cars are being built which will be adapted to the transportation of grain and immigrants. The sailing ships are now carrying grain from San Francisco to Liverpool at $8 to $10 per ton.

As the boy begins, so the man will live. The lad who speaks with affectation, and mimes foreign tongues that he does not understand at school, will be a weak chronic in his character all his life; the boy who cheats his teacher into thinking him devout at chapel will be the man who will make religion a trade and bring Christianity into contempt; and the boy who wins the highest average by stealing his examination papers will figure some day as tricky politician.

The lad who, whether rich or poor, dull or clever, looks you straight in the eyes and keeps his answer inside of the truth, already counts friends who will last all his life, and holds a capital which will bring him in a sure interest. —N. Y. Tribune.

"Coal Oil Johnny" seems to be having a run just now in the papers. One report says he is working with a pick and a shovel on a pipe line in the oil regions; another that he is owner of a large grain elevator in Nebraska; another that he is a keeper of a minstrel troupe he organized in his flush times; another that he is married to the woman who gave him a start, who, by the way, is also said to be dead. In short, Johnny is having a d—l of a time of it.
